

Mailbox Damage Prevention Tips

Is there anything I can do to protect my mailbox from damage caused by snow that comes off of a snowplow?

If your mailbox is not on the opposite side of your driveway in the direction of a snowplow, you can consider moving it to the other side as noted in the graphic above. This will allow for snow being thrown from the plow to deposit into your driveway and thus reducing the impact into your mailbox.

Snow protection framing is an option.

Seasonal/temporary metal frames are available online for purchase. They shield the force of the snow.
